Dear Parent/Carer,

As part of our Book Festival Week, as well as our liaison with high schools, Chantry Academy have an author in and we would like to take our Year 6 pupils. The author is Andy Briggs and his books have a target audience of children at the end of primary and beginning secondary school. He has also written for Oxford University Press, including their Comprehension Express series. He will be discussing his books, how he writes and encouraging the pupils in their own reading and writing.

The session with the author is on Monday 13th November from 9.30am – 10.30am. The pupils will be walking up to the school and will leave Gusford at 9.00am so pupils will be registered before we leave. As the pupils will be back at Gusford at around 11.00am, their lunchtime will be at Gusford as normal. Pupils will be expected to wear school uniform and will need to have a suitable coat.

As we now have the multiple consent forms in school for each pupil, we will use this as your permission to go on this trip. There is no cost to pay. If you do not wish your child to take part for whatever reason, please contact us. We would also need to know if your child has any medical needs which we are not aware of.
